

AMANZOE

Comprising a 38-suite resort, an Aman Spa and a number of exclusive Aman Villas, Amanzoe is situated on a hilltop in Greece on the east coast of the Peloponnese, overlooking the island of Spetses. Drawing its name from the Sanskrit-derived word for 'peace' and zoe, the Greek word for 'life', Amanzoe offers 360° panoramic views as well as a private Beach Club in a picturesque bay.

Surrounded by undulating olive groves and inspired by the architecture of ancient Greece, Amanzoe commands spectacular views of the Peloponnese countryside and coastline.

Making the most of the beautiful views, the resort's arrival pavilion (above) is dominated by a large reflection pool and houses the reception area (below).

The Living Room is a welcoming venue both day and night, offering indoor and outdoor settings and a central Bar (below right).

The resort offers a number of dining venues, including the Restaurant (right) with its expansive outdoor terrace and dining counter (below). Classic Greek dishes and Mediterranean fare are served, with an emphasis on seasonal produce.

With its lofty aspect, the Restaurant (right) offers an airy yet cosy ambience and floor-to-ceiling window-walls on three sides. These can be opened or closed depending on the weather. The venue also features two open fire-places, on either side of which are a sitting area (below) and dining counter.

Every one of the 38 Amanzoe guest pavilions has its own private swimming pool, ranging in length from six to 12 metres. The pavilions are divided into two categories depending on pool size. Each pavilion is accessed through a stone-walled garden courtyard (right).

Designed to maximise views and offer seamless indoor/outdoor living, pavilions feature spacious sitting and sleeping areas, with king-size beds positioned in a marble-walled alcove.

In each pavilion, the bedroom, living area and bathroom all open onto the terrace. Here one finds sun loungers and a private infinity pool.

The resort's main swimming pool (right) is situated at the heart of the resort, and is overlooked by the Pool Restaurant (below). A smaller pool is shaded by a pergola (above).

At night the resort is lit to highlight its unique architectural details. The Fireplace (left) is a tranquil setting for enjoying a drink at sunset or a nightcap beneath the stars. Guests can also play tennis in the evenings, as the courts (below right) are floodlit.

Designed as a peaceful sanctuary, the Aman Spa at Amanzoe offers massages, facials, scrubs and wraps, as well as seasonal spa journeys. Combining the best Asian techniques with ancient Greek beauty rituals, treatments utilise Aman Spa's own range of natural skincare products.

Aman Spa's eight treatment pavilions feature sunken bathtubs, steam rooms and relaxation areas. The spa also offers a Watsu pool (below), his and hers bammams (second on far right), a Thai massage room (below) and a salon for hairstyling, manicures and pedicures.

Situated in a beautiful bay with sparkling turquoise waters, the Beach Club is a 10-minute drive from the resort. Alternatively, guests can mountain bike the picturesque route.

The Beach Club features two 25-metre lap pools and provides a dining area and bar. Refreshments and a full lunch and dinner menu are served. Water sports equipment is available, and guests can explore the bay and nearby islands on private boating excursions.

The Peloponnese is as rich in ancient history as it is in natural beauty. Amanzoe is a superb base from which to discover this region, whether guest interests lie in photographing ancient ruins, visiting vineyards, exploring the many islands offshore including Spetses and Hydra, mountain biking or getting an aerial perspective with a helicopter tour.
